(e) In case of a tie in the last place, either in the primary or in the final election, the selection shall be made by lot, under the direction of the judges in charge of the election.

2. The president, with the approval of the board of directors, shall appoint judges to supervise and conduct elections.

3. The members shall vote by mail or in person, by secret ballot in conformity with such additional rules and regulations as the board of directors may adopt.

4. The annual nominating primary election for directors shall be held on the second Thursday in September and the final election on the third Thursday in September, provided, however, that in the year 1921 the nominating primary for directors shall be held on the twenty-ninth of September and the final election on the fifth of October.

Article IV - Vacancies

Vacancies by resignation or otherwise in the board of directors shall be filled by the board until the next general election only, at which time the membership shall elect a director or directors for the remainder of the unexpired two-year term or terms.

Article V - Officers

1. Within ten days after the annual election, the directors shall meet and elect officers for the ensuing year, a president, two vice-presidents, and a treasurer. The board of directors by a two-thirds vote of those present shall employ a manager who shall be secretary and whose compensation shall be determined by the board of directors.

2. The treasurer and the manager shall each furnish surety bonds in such amounts as the board of directors shall deem necessary, the cost to be paid by the Raleigh Chamber of Commerce.

3. The duties of the officers shall be such as their titles, by general usage, would indicate, and such as are required by law, and such as may be assigned to them respectively by the board of directors from time to time.

Article VI - Committees

1. The board of directors shall authorize and define the powers and duties of all committees.

2. The president shall appoint all committees subject to confirmation by the board of directors.